Study in Australia

Open your eye to a world of quality

There are many reasons why over 50% of international students chose to study in Australia.

Australia is known for its high quality education with world class facilities, professional, experienced teachers, great support services and international recognition.

Graduates from Australia have little difficulty finding jobs worldwide and are readily accepted For postgraduate studies internationally. Australian govt. laws assure top quality standards.

The Australian qualifications framework (AQF) is a national system of learning pathways that covers different qualifications, linking universities, vocational education training as well as school education.

Australia has lower cost of living in comparison with the United States and the United Kingdom. The lower tuition fees and high standard of living are appealing for many students.

International students and their dependents in Australia can work up to 20 hours a week while studying, allowing them to earn extra money, gain useful work experience in a foreign country and meet a variety of new people. During holiday periods they may work full time. dependents of a master`s or doctorate student have unlimited work rights once the student starts their course.

You will find wide range of cultural diversity in Australia with more than 20 per cent Australians being born in other countries. Australians are welcoming, friendly and understand cultural differences. it is a safe and sophisticated society in which students can learn and travel.
